DETAILED ACTION

The rejection of claims 1-21 under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting was erroneous. The claims being rejected are claims 1-13, the only claims pending in the application.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-13 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of copending Application No. 10/726,379 in view of Guérin et al. The application to Guérin et al claims a composite that may embrace more than one, "optionally hydrogenated, nitrile rubber polymer" wherein the claimed nitrile rubber may have a Mooney viscosity that embraces the limitation of "below 10," as recited in the instant claims. The patent to Guérin et al teaches the production of "hydrogenated nitrile rubber polymers" having

Art Unit: 1711

Mooney viscosities "in the range of from 3 to 50." The employment of nitrile rubbers in mixture is taught in the application to Guérin et al at paragraph [0003]. Further, note the uses disclosed for nitrile rubbers at paragraph [0002], which would embrace those recited and claimed.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7 November 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants assert that "as both applicants (sic) are pending, any action by Applicants with regard to this provisional rejection is premature and under MPEP § 804(I)(B) "If the 'provisional' double patenting rejection in the one application is the only rejection remaining in that application, the examiner should then withdraw that rejection and permit the application to issues (sic) as a patent, thereby converting the 'provisional' double patent rejection in the other application into a double patenting rejection at the time the one application issues as a patent. "

This is simply not the case in these applications, and applicants have contorted what the MPEP actually says. This section is reproduced below.

Art Unit: 1711

1. > Nonstatutory Double Patenting Rejections

If a "provisional" nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting (ODP) rejection is the only rejection remaining in the earlier filed of the two pending applications, while the later-filed application is rejectable on other grounds, the examiner should withdraw that rejection and permit the earlier-filed application to issue as a patent without a terminal disclaimer. If the ODP rejection is the only rejection remaining in the later-filed application, while the earlier-filed application is rejectable on other grounds, a terminal disclaimer must be required in the later-filed application before the rejection can be withdrawn.

If "provisional" ODP rejections in two applications are the only rejections remaining in those applications, the examiner should withdraw the ODP rejection in the earlier filed application thereby permitting that application to issue without need of a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer must be required in the later-filed application before the ODP rejection can be withdrawn and the application permitted to issue. If both applications are filed on the same day, the examiner should determine which application claims the base invention and which application claims the improvement (added limitations). The ODP rejection in the base application can be withdrawn without a terminal disclaimer, while the ODP rejection in the improvement application cannot be withdrawn without a terminal disclaimer.

In this instance, the later-filed application, Serial Number 10/726,379 has had no examination to date. As such, it has not been determined that "the later-filed application is rejectable on other grounds. Even the second paragraph situation of this section of the Manual is not equivalent to that posed to be true by applicants. Since an obviousness-type double patenting rejection has not been made therein.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
